RAILROADS THREATEN GREATER WAGE CUT IF CONFERENCE FAILS

Willard Paints Gloomy Picture of Railroad Receivership, Bond Defaults and Stock Depressions

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—A gloomy picture of railroad receivership, bond defaults and stock depressions was painted today by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, before the joint conference on wages and employment.

It was the down-to-cases opening of the railroads' battle for a 10 per cent reduction in wages. In the background was the threat of a 15 per cent slash if the present conference fails to bring an agreement among the nine railroad presidents and 21 union leaders.

2 1/2 Hours Session

To aid in completing the pessimistic future he predicted for the railroad industry under existing conditions, Willard took into the conference three experts—M. C. McClees, New York secretary of the bureau for information of the eastern railroads; J. W. Higgins, Chicago, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives; and C. P. Neill, manager of the bureau of information of the southern railroads.

The session lasted two and one-half hours, then adjourned without another meeting in the afternoon, as previously planned. At the request of David B. Robertson, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives association, two sessions will be held tomorrow.

Difference of Opinion

A sharp difference of opinion developed informally between the employers and workers over the status of the conference. The railroad heads contended that if no agreement is reached, then their 30-day notice of a 15 per cent reduction in wages would become effective.

Robertson, however, declared the unions regard the meeting as being held under the provisions of the federal railway wage act, under which disagreement would involve resort to mediation and arbitration, with the existing wages remaining in force during such negotiations.

STATE BUDGET FOR YEAR 1932 WHITTLED BY $400,000 CUT

LARGEST SAVING OF $275,000 IS MADE IN HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—An additional $400,000 has been pared from the budget for the next fiscal year, the report of Mrs. Jean Wittich, budget commissioner, to Governor Floyd E. Olson showed today.

The largest saving was made in the state highway department, where $275,000 was lopped off earlier estimates. Mrs. Wittich also cut an item of $50,000 for construction of highway patrol headquarters buildings throughout the state.

MOB STORMS JAIL TO SEE HANGING OF MAN WHO KILLED FATHER

AMONG THE CROWD WAS THE ONLY SON OF THE CON-DEMNED MAN

Barrie, Ont., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—An infuriated mob broke into a coal shed of the county jail today, and watched the legal hanging of Thomas Wesley Campbell, 35, convicted of murdering his aged father.

Among the crowd was Campbell's only son. The crowd milled around the jail yard for hours before the hanging, set for shortly after midnight. Refusal of authorities to permit Campbell's former neighbors to view the execution angered the crowd. The neighbors stormed the jail, breaking down a door.

A score of men and women had entered the execution room, where Campbell had just been dropped on an improvised scaffold, before police, armed, stopped the rush for the shed doors.

Hundreds, held in check by police, then peered through the broken door for a glimpse of the dead body.

CONVICTED OFFICIAL HELPS EXAMINERS UNRAVEL ACCOUNTS

GIVEN 5 YEARS FOR EMBEZZLEMENT, EX-MURRAY COUNTY TREASURER CALLS SELF

Pipestone, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Blamed by himself as "a fool" for taking $24,000 belonging to Murray county funds, James E. Shirley, deposed as county treasurer after 21 years of service because he embezzled the money, today helped state examiners untangle his accounts.

Shirley pleaded guilty before Judge C. T. Howard of district court and was sentenced to five years for the embezzlement. He will be taken to Stillwater next Wednesday to start his term, Sheriff George Nelson of Murray county said.

"I was a fool," Shirley said. "Now I've got to take my medicine."

He said he had lost part of the money entrusted to his care in an attempt to play the board of trade and then had taken more funds to play the stock market. He lost it all, he said. When he was brought back here from Sioux City, Iowa, where he was arrested, he had a check for $2,000 and more than $1,000 in cash in his possession.

The loss of the county is covered by a $50,000 bond which was posted by Shirley.

The Murray county treasurer disappeared last Dec. 14 after telling friends he was going to rest at Hot Springs, Ark. He never arrived. He was traced to the Twin Cities and then to Sioux City, where he was arrested. A check of his records by examiners under A. R. Johnson, state public examiner, showed the shortage and Shirley's arrest was ordered.

Sabin Bank Holdup Suspects Plead Not Guilty

Moorhead, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Three men charged with the robbery of the Sabin State Bank pleaded not guilty today.

The three were Ed (St. Paul Blackie) Redman, Sam Abas, Moorhead, and Zack Lemon, Ponsford. All three are being held in the Clay county jail.

Jake Schumacher, who with "Arkansas Bob" was indicted with the other three yesterday, is being held in the Cass county jail at Fargo on auto theft charges. Schumacher did not take an active part in the holdup, authorities said, but was the leader of the four participants.

"Arkansas Bob" is being sought. Henry C. Stening, Clay county attorney, announced.

Guard at Leavenworth Taken Into Custody

Washington, Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Carl Carlson, guard at Leavenworth prison, has been arrested and is being held in $7,500 bail on charges of taking contraband articles into the prison, the bureau of prisons announced today.

As Raging Floods Menace 5,000 in Mississippi

New levee breaks on Tallahatchie river flooded 50,000 acres and marooned 5,000 persons in the Mississippi delta area below Memphis, Tenn. Flood conditions were described as the worst in history in the entire Tallahatchie basin. The photo here shows a street in Charleston, Miss., just after a break in the levee had sent the swirling flood waters into the little town.

FLEE BEFORE FLOOD AS LEVEE CRUMBLES

Charleston, Miss., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Levees protecting the thickly populated Tippecanoe Basin crumbled in six more places today, sending additional hundreds of residents to higher ground.

Families who had clung to the hope the levees would withstand the roaring flood waters began a desperate race for their lives against the muddy waters. Many who had lingered too long climbed into trees and onto house-tops.

Many homes in the Basin were surrounded by water before the new rise, but the occupants had not abandoned them. George Merriweather, editor of a weekly newspaper here, said today the break did not come until last night. It was reported the levee crumbled in three places as the river, swelled by continuous rains, burst its bounds.

Glendora, farther down the river, was a scene of activity today. Surrounded by greater flood threats, the little town was carrying on its work to stave off the levee breaks. More were threatened each hour as the river continued to rise.

Charleston housed many homeless families today, and as more from the Basin left their homes, it was expected shelter facilities would be taxed to the utmost before nightfall.

HOUSE SANCTIONS FINANCE MEASURE BY 355 TO 55 VOTE

FINAL CONGRESSIONAL ACTION BLOCKED BY LEGISLATIVE MANEUVER

Washington, Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's $2,000,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation project was blocked today by a legislative maneuver which may materially delay its final enactment.

Sen. Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, an opponent of the measure, prevented administration senate leaders from beginning today the task of reconciling the differences in the bill as passed by house and senate. The huge project to provide credit for aiding railroad and financial institutions was forced to take a regular place on the senate calendar.

Many billions more of potential credit lies in this bill and other pending measures of the president's program, together with the additional refreshing stream furnished by the federal reserve board in its new "easy money" policy, for credit of this sort expands as it circulates outward in various channels.

Approval of the president's entire program, designed to help the farmer, the home-owner and the depositor in insolvent banks—and it appears most of it will be sanctioned by congress—should act to thaw the country's frozen financial mechanism. It is hoped a business revival will result.

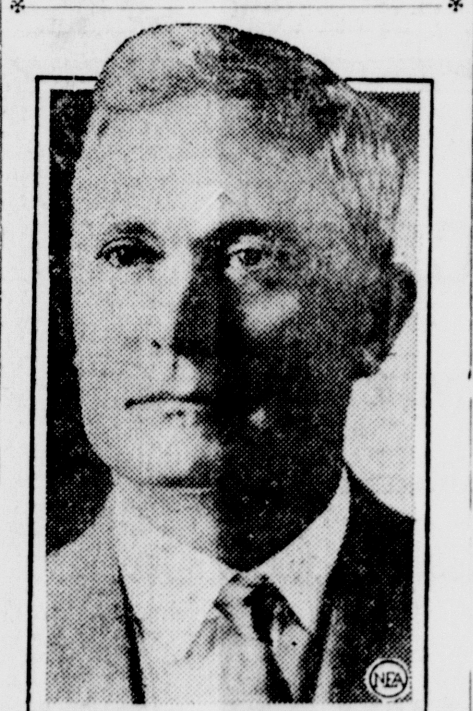

Federal Court Handles 140 Liquor Cases

Farmington Falls, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—A record of 140 liquor law violation cases were handled by the winter term of court which closed last night. Only one case ended in an acquittal. Fines imposed totalled $24,640 and the total of jail and prison terms was 119 years.

Long's Choice as Successor

O. K. Allen, shown here, is the Huey Long candidate for governor of Louisiana in the Democratic primary to be decided Jan. 19. Allen will be opposed by George S. Guion and Dudley L. LeBlanc, both anti-Long men. A second primary on Feb. 23 will decide the nomination if no candidate has a majority. Nomination by the Democratic party is equivalent to election. The winner will succeed Governor Long, who has been elected to the U. S. Senate, on May 16.

FOUR KILLED WHEN OVERLOADED SEDAN CRASHES INTO TRAIN

Four persons, including three members of one family, were killed when a large sedan, carrying 12 persons home from a party, crashed into an Erie railroad train at a crossing today. Six others were injured, four seriously.

Two of the dead were children. The dead were Arthur Woodbeck, 30; Floyd, 3, and Elthea, 4, two of Woodbeck's five children who were riding in the automobile; and Harold Sanford, 27.

EFFORTS OF MOTHER TO RESCUE CHILDREN FROM FIRE FAILS

EXPLOSION OF STOVE CAUSES FIRE TAKING LIVES OF FARMER'S CHILDREN

Hazleton, N. D., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Alone in their farm house, two infant children of N. S. Trauger, farmer living near here, were burned to death last night.

Their mother was in the barn doing the evening chores when the stove exploded and could not rescue the pair despite her efforts to rush through the flames. Their father was in Bismarck where he was an exhibitor in the poultry show. He was called home after the accident.

The farm house was completely destroyed despite efforts of neighbors who hurried to the fire as soon as they saw the flames.

ROCK CO. OFFICIALS DEFY LAW TO TAKE CUTS IN SALARIES

AGRE TO CUTS DESPITE WARNING OF CORRUPT PRACTICE ACT VIOLATION

Luverne, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Braving the possibility that they may violate the corrupt practice act, officials of Rock county today voluntarily accepted salary cuts as they part of a move to reduce taxes.

County officials met informally and agreed to take salary reductions despite a warning that since some of their salaries were set by law, their actions might be construed as an effort to carry favor with the voters and they might be removed from office.

Officials whose salaries are set by law include auditor, treasurer, judge of probate, sheriff and county commissioners. The board of commissioners accepted the petitions for salary reductions.

WARMER WEATHER WITH LIGHT SNOW FORECAST FOR AREA

DEVILS LAKE EXPERIENCED 24 DEGREES BELOW ZERO FOR COLDEST RECORD

With a light snow forecast, the United States weather bureau predicts today that the northwest would have rising temperatures.

Crisp mid-January weather gripped Minnesota and the Dakotas. The coldest spot in the northwest was at Devils Lake where the mercury dropped to 24 below zero last night. Other temperatures were: Bismarck and Williston 10 below, Moorhead 4 below, Duluth 4 above and St. Paul 7 above.

With the promise of a light snow and continued cold weather Minneapolis opened its annual winter sports week today. Skating, hockey and ski programs will be held at the various municipal parks.

Most of the snow left by the recent storm had melted in Minnesota although the semi-tropical city of Los Angeles reported a two inch snow-fall.

OFFICIAL DATES FOR STATE ELECTIONS ANNOUNCED TODAY

PRIMARIES WILL BE HELD ON JUNE 20 AND GENERAL ELECTIONS ON NOV. 8

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Official notice was given Secretary of State Mike Holm today by Attorney Henry N. Benson as to the dates for Minnesota elections this year.

The state primaries will be held on June 20 and the general elections on Nov. 8, the attorney general reported according to the law.

Benson also ruled that the "deadline" for filing of candidates for the primary elections for state offices, congress and judges of the district court will be May 11; for probate judges and other county offices, May 31.

Candidates seeking to have their names placed on the final election ballot as independent candidates must have their petitions on file with the secretary of state not later than Oct. 8.

ASK INDICTMENT OF STATE'S ATTORNEY IN LIQUOR COMBINE

ONE OF 50 DEFENDANTS TURNS STATE'S EVIDENCE IN $10,000-000 LIQUOR RING PROBE

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Indictment of State's Attorney Vincent Bell of Whiteside county as a member of a $10,000,000 midwest liquor syndicate will be asked, Assistant U. S. District Attorney Daniel Anderson said today.

The indictment will be asked on testimony of Clarence (Sonny) Elsen, one of 50 defendants in the alcohol conspiracy trial now proceeding before Federal District Judge Walter C. Lindley.

Elsen turned state's evidence, pleaded guilty and testified against his associates. He is a former Clinton, Iowa, motorcycle officer and said for three years he ran alcohol for the ring which is alleged to have been an "out of town" distribution system for the Capone syndicate.

The witness charged Bell conspired with members of the organization to keep him in jail in order to prevent his testifying. He said he finally was released by Mike Blumberg, who the government charges headed the distribution unit.

Blumberg, Elsen said, unlocked his cell door and told him to "beat it across the river." On another occasion Bell smuggled the witness out of jail when the government sought his release on a habeas corpus writ, Elsen said.

Elsen told of running alcohol by automobile and truck to Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, and North Dakota cities.

His family poverty stricken, himself broken in spirit and dejected by idleness and unable to find work, Archie Lytle, 29, today mortally wounded himself with a gun in the presence of his wife and four children at their home, 213 Laurel Street.

Lytle had just talked over their troubles with his wife. They had talked the situation over many times, hoping for some solution to their plight.

Wife Couldn't Stop Him
"Before I had time to stop him, he pulled a gun out of his pocket and shot himself," his grief stricken wife said after the tragedy.

Lytle had the gun in his right hand, placed the muzzle to his right temple and fired. The bullet went through his temple and came out over his left ear.

Dies at 1:15 P. M.
The time of the shooting was fixed at 1:15 A. M. Too near death to be removed to the hospital, Lytle was picked up from the floor and placed on a bed in one of the three rooms of the one-story home. He did not regain consciousness to his death at 1:15 P. M.

Coroner D. E. Whitney who investigated the shooting took possession of the revolver, a .32 calibre. The magazine of the gun was filled with bullets, one being fired.

Family Fights Poverty
A touching story of their fight for existence was told by his widow, Mrs. Mamie Lytle, 29.

"Archie said he had nothing more to live for. He tried to get work and couldn't. Half the time we didn't have anything in the house to eat. One trouble after another and now this," Mrs. Lytle sobbed.

Four Young Children Left
The children are too young to realize the sadness of this day in their home. Joseph is eight years old and goes to school at the Lincoln, his mother said. Then there are Lois, 5; Joyce, 3, and the baby, Duaine, 18 months.

Out of Work 5 Months
"Archie had not worked for five months. We lived at Cheyenne, N. D., and he thought if we came to Brainerd he could get work. He formerly lived here and is an automobile mechanic. We came to Brainerd about a month ago. Archie looked for work all over town but had no luck. We got some help from the Brainerd Community Relief Fund and that's about all we had to keep going," the widow related.

Lived on Community Aid
Mrs. Lytle said that the family received one $2 order on a store from the community fund before Christmas, another $2 order just before New Year's and another $2 order last Monday. Two quarts of milk were left at the house each morning. The family existed on these donations, Mrs. Lytle said.

In North Dakota Six Years
The Lytles lived in Cheyenne for nearly a year before coming here and before that time lived in various parts of North Dakota for six years. Previously to that time Lytle lived in Brainerd for about nine years, Mrs. Lytle explained.

Relatives Live Here
By coming to Brainerd the family wished also to be nearer relatives. Mrs. Bell Briggs, mother of Archie, lives at 318 First Street. Neil Christianson, an uncle of Mrs. Lytle, lives near Merrifield.

Asked if she would remain in Brainerd, Mrs. Lytle replied that she had no idea what she would do in the future for the care of herself and her family.

Rob New Ulm Store of $3,500 in Merchandise

New Ulm, Minn., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Working under an apparently carefully organized plan, bandits today looted the New Ulm Grocery Co., of $3,500 worth of merchandise.

The looting was discovered by H. W. Bockus, manager of the store, when he arrived at opening time. The thieves apparently had backed two automobiles up to the rear of the store, jimmied the door open and selected the loot they wanted without wasting time.

Fifty cases of cigarettes and 47 boxes of cigars made up the main portion of the loot, Bockus said. A few dollars worth of small change kept in a cash register also was taken. Only a cash register containing the loot they sought were distributed by the bandits.

Chamberlain, S. D., Jan. 16.—(U.P.)—Captain Charles Lockwood, sole survivor of the famous Last Man's Club of First Minnesota Regiment veterans of the Civil War, will probably be confined to his home until spring with a blood clot in his leg, Mrs. Art Burkholder, his daughter, said today.

"Now Let's Get a Picture of the Inside Facts!"

Number of men employed and amount of money paid for labor at Brainerd Shops, including the store, during the past nine years.

Year	Money	No. of Men
1923	$1,840,875.43	1367
1924	$1,637,080.03	1256
1925	$1,586,451.51	1143
1926	$1,499,275.30	1227
1927	$1,515,259.78	1094
1928	$1,581,947.94	1135
1929	$1,570,480.46	1071
1930	$1,351,545.26	1006
1931	$1,312,097.87	1034

The above table shows very accurately, the fluctuations of employment and wages in the mechanical department of the N. P. Railroad over a period of nine years. With but two exceptions, during the years of 1927 and 1928, wages paid have experienced a decline over the previous period. The year 1931 was the smallest in wages paid out for work and next to smallest in the number of men employed. An early estimate hinted that 1932 would not be below 1931. This, however, comes as a result of the nation's realization of the plight the roads are in and the awakening of national commissioners that now they must lend their undivided moral and financial support if the carriers are to live. And thus was born the nationwide movement to "Ship and Travel by Rail."

The result so far has been financially beneficial and has brought about a closer feeling of co-operation to all concerned.

The cards are face up on the table . . . the figures in the table give you an accurate picture of the inside facts. It means one of two things. Either Brainerd is going to forge ahead or slip back. There's no fence-straddling in this deal.

There isn't one of us who doubts for a minute that Brainerd could and would do anything else but go ahead. The outlook is encouraging. Employment is on the increase, shipments by rail are improving, the business outlook is brightening . . . now is no time to let down when the goal is in sight and success virtually assured.

Everyone can help. Trade at Home and Ship by Rail. The past is gone . . . let's look to the future. If we unite in our efforts and work for the cause, the result is inevitable. A greater Brainerd for everyone.

PRICE OF THE "FIX"

The sad plight of Chicago, as told in The Daily Dispatch in a series of articles just concluded, and which city has been slipping nearer and nearer to the edge of downright bankruptcy, ought to be a final warning, a last object lesson for the American people, about the evils of municipal party politics.

When Judge Jarecki the other day threw out the tax assessment rolls of 1928 and 1929 with the remark that the evidence of fraud blew into his court "like a blizzard," he added the final bit of evidence to prove that partisan politics can be altogether too expensive a luxury for a modern city.

The present government of Chicago is doing all that it can do to remedy matters. It is acting wisely and with energy. But most of the damage has been done.

Chicago today is paying the price for years of acquiescence in rule by unscrupulous politicians. And what makes the affair of nationwide interest is the fact that Chicago simply magnifies conditions that are present in nearly every American city. Chicago has done what most of the rest of us have done—only on a bigger scale.

Political rule is almost inseparable from the fix. The fix is in evidence in almost every department of most city governments. If you know the right man you can get a traffic ticket taken care of, you can get out of jury duty, you can get this, that or the other little favor; and if your friend is influential enough you can get your real estate assessment arranged as you would like to have it arranged.

That is what happened in Chicago. Tax assessment rolls were fixed and fixed and fixed, year after year—until, finally, the courts threw them out and ordered the job done over again. Politics interfered with the new assessment, and now that has been thrown out likewise; and Chicago's finances are in a dire plight.

There isn't anything surprising in all of this. Politics played fast and loose with Chicago's city government, and Chicago today is paying the price. There is a tremendous lesson in the whole business for other cities.

NO MORE LADIES---

Ladies aren't what they used to be, according to Mme. Louisa Tetravini, grand opera favorite of yesterday, who has returned to America for a farewell tour. She can't find any, and she is sorry.

But the vast majority of American women—and men, too—are giving three cheers because ladies, in the crinoline, mignonette sense of the nice old word, are out. Pedestals were uncomfortable. Women are having a much more interesting time since they slid down. Men may not adore them so blindly but they like them much better. A lady on a pedestal could never get very close to life.

Elaine, who lived at Shalot, as you may remember, was a perfect lady. When Sir Launcelot rode away without making a return date she lay down and died. That was all a lady could do. But the modern girls, whom Mme. Tetravini does not call ladies, have a fairer, broader sense of values. They know what is around the corner. They have been there. And when they receive a blow or two they fight a little harder instead of sitting on a curbstone and crying.

Tetravini says that women are no longer concerned about their homes and children. Still, a surprisingly large number of those women who are working are doing it in order to give added advantages to their families, and to help secure the type of home they want more quickly. Maybe it isn't ladylike. But it's a pretty good form of sportsmanship.

The word lady usually brings a drifting memory of dusky twilights, slim white hands that play with a silver tea service, voices sweet and a little breathless that sing old songs. The word lady has become confused with romance. Women at heart haven't changed at all. Tetravini doesn't need to worry about this. The girls who spun their dreams behind the looms at Camelot and Astolat in the shy old days, emotionally were basically the same as those who run department stores and pound typewriters. But the modern girl, with a keen urge to get into the world and be part of it, has a better sense of values, a better understanding of the work which men do, more sympathy and wisdom and tolerance and infinitely more common sense.

Maybe she isn't as much of a mystery as she was in the days when she stayed at home until the moon came up, but she is considerably more interesting and companionable. Distinctly more fun.

If taking a seat in the game means not being a lady neither she, nor the men who know her, mind in the least.

$700,000,000 FOR SHIPS?---

Patriotic Americans who believe in seeing their country's defenses properly maintained, and who also have a due regard for the state of the federal treasury, will have to do some earnest and protracted thinking during the next month or so. The new naval bill recently introduced by Congressman Carl Vinson, embodying the plans of the navy's general board, is a case in point.

This bill seeks the expenditure of $700,000,000 on naval construction, involving 120 new ships. The program is not quite as stupendous as it sounds, as most of the proposed ships would simply replace obsolete tonnage; indeed, it would be easy to defend it as a moderate and sensible plan for maintaining the navy at its proper strength.

But the present is a very bad time for proposing $700,000,000 worth of naval construction. The federal deficit has got to be reduced. Is it to the best interests of the nation to put the navy's needs ahead of those of the treasury?

OVERTHROW OF A CHEF---

Nothing could better illustrate the completeness of the political overturn in Spain than the plight of Senor Francisco Arroyo. A year ago Arroyo was chef for the king of Spain. His post was in the royal palace, and he busied himself with the preparation of whatever dainty dishes happened to be the choice of Spanish royalty.

Today he is in charge of a soup kitchen in Madrid. Instead of serving kings and queens and others of the blood royal, he dishes out free soup to the capital's jobless.

Although it was practically bloodless, Spain's revolution was about as thoroughgoing an affair as anyone could wish. The changed circumstances of Senor Arroyo, one-time chef to royalty, prove it.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE

BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN, CECILY and MARY FRANCES FENWICK live with their grandparents. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandparents—known as "RO-SALIE" and "GRAND"—have long since lost their wealth and the household is supported by Ann and Cecily's earnings. For this reason, Ann, 22, and Phillip ECKROYD, young lawyer, are still postponing their marriage though they have been married 8 years.

Cecily, 22, is in love with BARRY MCKEEL, an engineer, but when he proposes she refuses to name the wedding date because she cannot leave Ann with the financial responsibility of the home.

Mary-Frances, 15, and still in school, strikes up an acquaintance with EARL DEARMOUNT, stock company actor. She meets him secretly on several occasions. Mary-Frances has led him to believe she is 18 years old. He tries to persuade her to become his partner in a vaudeville act. Phil takes Ann to dinner and a girl she has never seen before sends him a note which he burns. Ann decides to go home. On the way trouble develops with the car and Phil stops to investigate.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII

ANN did not need to listen; so she breathed a smallish, confused prayer to the gods of garage men that this particular knock in Phil's automobile might emanate from some source, any source, other than clogged piston rods. Phil's responses to that special species of knock were invariable. He began by diagnosing the disease as fatal, since one mechanic named Jake Lucca had left town, and went frantically on from there.

His procedure was to drive the car for a few hundred yards and stop it, and leap out, and open the hood, and peer despairingly into the insides of the thing, and with an air of suppressing much prophecy that this was the end. Usually, since there was nothing else to be done, he would get into the car again and start it with difficulty, and go for a few hundred yards more before he leaped out and lifted the hood, and peered, and so on.

Cars, Ann had learned, suffering from this malady are moody, hysterical things; they will knock like a woodpecker and then, once in a while, they will stop and refuse to go another step until, after a short rest, they will pick up with a spurt and stop knocking and pretend that nothing has ever been the matter with them.

If a garage is in sight they will recover completely—cars with dis-cased piston rods dread garages—until the pla has been left miles behind. Then, worn out with the extra exertion of stimulating strength where there were only weakness and rage, they will break down for good, and refuse to budge. Ann, her piston rods, and Phil was a proud man, and thrifty, and to be seem-ingly healthy and strong, and to subject himself, or patient, to a charge of neuroticism and four or five dollars, was a performance in which he would take no part. So they always shed by the garages and broke down in some lonely spot on the highway. And then Phil would leap out, talking about Jake Lucca, and open the hood and peer . . . Stronger women than Ann have gone to pieces with less provocation than that afforded by piston rods.

CONVERSATION during calamity is heartless and footless, crippled and offensive, so Ann had long since ceased attempting it. They rode in silence, except for the knock. Phil had his head cocked to one side so that never a vibration of sound should escape him, and Ann had ever so much time to think about the girl who wrote notes that needed to be burned at night and Phil's night work of late.

They had passed a garage in a small town, five miles back, so a relapse was due, and it came, scheduled precisely, on a deserted stretch of road. Phil leaped out; this made the ninth or tenth time within the hour. Ann, too, got out of the car—she usually did so; it seemed more helpful.

Phil lifted the hood and looked at the engine. Ann stood and watched the lights of an oncoming automobile growing larger and larger. She found no encouragement in the fact of its approach. Another of Phil's conventions concerning piston rods was a refusal to ask for aid from other motorists. Jake Lucca alone, in a world full of men, could repair piston rods, and Jake was leagues upon leagues away.

The lights grew larger still, and dangerous seeming, and Ann stepped out of the glare just as the car—the sportiest sort of sports model—slowed and stopped, and a girl's voice called, "Hey, hey, Phil! Some more trouble!"

Phil had started the engine and had his ear to its breast so that he could hear the knocks. Ann receded farther into the shadows.

Letty stepped from the car, and crossed to Phil, and said, her childish voice raised high above the groans of the engine, "What is it, old dear? Piston rods again?"

Phil lifted his head, but he did not come back to a complete consciousness of the outside world—a heartless, knockless world where piston rods were of secondary importance. A voice that he knew had greeted him, and he returned the greeting abstractedly.

"Hello, Letty," he said to Miss King, whose first name he was unsure of, could not really remember . . .

If one small cat slinks out of a bag, wisdom may attempt to capture. If dozens of spry black cats, loosed possibly on purpose and all at once, plunge forth to trip and skip and caracole into the night, confounding wisdom, courting and frolicking with folly, nothing much can be done about it.

Letty's next remark, addressed to Ann in the shadows and made with one hand on Phil's arm, was "Doesn't the poor darling have the foulest times with his old piston rods?"

Ann came forth and was introduced as Miss Fenwick to Miss King, and Miss King said politely, "Phil's told me a lot about you." Miss King's escort came along. His name was Mr. Smith—a nice easy name to remember, and he was glad to know everyone, or so he said. He disclaimed all knowledge of things mechanical, but offered to give Phil a tow, if Phil had a rope. Phil had no rope.

Letty said to Phil, "Say, listen, sweetheart-darling . . ." Ann had retreated again to the shadows, so she might have been out of earshot; but Kenneth Smith was right there until he walked back to the sports model and climbed into it.

Phil said, "Never mind that, now Letty," and she said, "Yes, but I want to tell you—"

Phil said, "Don't go, Ann. Stay near—" And Ann kept right on going, and Letty kept hold of Phil's arm.

Kenneth said to Ann, "Some crush over there," as if he were in pain, and Ann said brightly, "Yes, it seems so."

Kenneth sighed; Ann did not. Kenneth offered, "She makes me sick, if I do say it. She used to be a swell woman, but since she's gone push on that sheik she's on a heavy date; can't see but a couple dance after dinner; can't see a damo thing but sheiky and trailing him around. I'm fed. I'm bloated. I'm through. I'm not doing bloodhound-ing for a living. Not yet."

Ann said sweetly and with sympathy that she did not blame him in the least.

Kenneth opened the car door. "Won't you get in and sit down and wait?"

"Thank you," Ann accepted. "I'll get in and sit down," she sank into the wide depth of the seat, "but why wait?"

Kenneth said, after a moment, "I get you. I'd go in a hurry if his damn car wasn't busted down."

"It isn't," said Ann. "It's his damn (from Ann!) 'tubbiness. The car would run well enough if I got home if he'd run it instead of listening to it and looking at it. He'll have to, sooner or later. He has a knock in his engine—that's all. They will get home in good order, in time."

"Sure of it?"

"Positive. Listen to his engine. It will run."

"I'm on!" said Kenneth, and reached with a gesture of violence for the clutch, and he and Ann were off.

FOR a short time Ann gave her self over completely to the soothing, heart-easing luxury afforded by the absence of piston rods; but presently, when . . .

"Any time!" He said it twice, and added that Letty King gave him a pain in the neck, and invited Ann to call him Ken, or Kenny, or anything she liked but Mr. Smith. He went on to say that he was unaccustomed to taking girls out for an evening and having them go cow-eyed over other men, writing notes and sending them by waiters, and that he had no intentions of accustoming himself to such activities from his girl friends. They could stand him up once, just once after that he'd show them whether or not he was dizzy.

Ann repeated that she did not blame him.

Unexpectedly Kenneth proffered the suggestion that they park, in a road they would reach in a minute, and take a turn or two at necking.

Ann declined pleasantly, offering by way of apology eccentricity of habit. She had never gone in for that sort of thing.

"One big evening!" Kenneth remarked.

Ann said, "I'm sorry."

No, I didn't mean that," said Kenneth. "I don't go in much for necking myself. Oh, well—of course, I go in for it; but I don't get any kick out of it. Never have. Most girls do, though. That's all most girls care about. I just kind of thought it was a shame for you to have your evening wrecked. What a girl like you, so pretty and—and all, can see in a wet smack like that boy friend of Letty's. I don't know if I do say it."

"I don't either," said Ann. "He's a cold dish if ever there was one."

"I rather think so, too," said Ann. "Letty gave me a bum steer then, as usual," he said. "She told me that you were engaged to him, and that he was trying to get out of it and couldn't. I thought she was lying all along, and after I saw you tonight I was certain she was. I'll tell the world you aren't hard to take, after Letty King. Yes, I was certain she was."

Ann was not the one to dispute with a certainty. "What a grand car you have," she said. "She goes," he said carelessly. "If she won't, I have another that will. Same with my speed boat. Got a couple. One to run and one to keep in reserve in case of accidents or anything."

"How wonderful," said Ann, ways to have something in reserve in case of accidents."

RANGERS TAKE WARRIORS, 30-27; PERPICH AND LARSON STAR

STOCKIER BOYS WIN UNDER CAGE; PACE SPEEDY FROM START

SPECTACULAR FINAL QUARTER RALLY BY BRAINERD FALLS SHORT

Joe Perpich and Co., incorporated under the laws of Coach Herman Wood of the Crosby-Ironton high school, boosted their stock last night in strong bartering for baskets on the Brainerd cage floor.

The Washington high school gym exchange showed a 9 p. m. closing quotation of Crosby-Ironton, 30, Brainerd, 27.

The villagers became the bears in a season record in trading trading of goals. Joe Perpich bought and bought, fought and fought and grabbed possession of the market with seven field goals and two free throws.

Larson Brainerd Threat

Maurice Larson established himself as the outstanding threat to the Rangers. He took his chances at long range and profited by them, scoring five field goals.

As a basketball game the Brainerd-C.I. encounter was the most thrilling since the last time the two teams met in the finals of the district tournament last March. It brought forcibly to the attention of the fans that one or the other of these teams will again win the district championship. Whatever the record of the other teams in the district, it is doubted if any could have withstood the pace and cage power these boys showed. It was a hysterical battle for the fans from the opening whistle.

Comparison of play revealed Crosby-Ironton the stronger and its victory was justified.

But as Coach Bill Dammann says: "There are other games coming."

This statement was not one of seeking revenge or creating an alibi. It was a determination to fight all the harder to build a team of near super-players. Any team that could have defeated the range boys last night would have had to be a super team.

From the point of psychology, the defeat was a good thing for Brainerd. The game brought out several weaknesses in the local squad not before noticed this season even in playing such threats as Moorhead, Bemidji and Valley City.

Highly Keyed

Brainerd was greatly overkeyed of their own volition throughout the major part of the game. That excitement, unsteadiness and desire to carry the play to the opponents handicapped the locals.

Larson stood out in the night's play as the most consistent Brainerd player. He proved himself invaluable and his long shots pulled Brainerd out of many tight places.

Taller and heavier than the Brainerd boys, the Rangers took the tip offs consistently and gained points on the fight for the ball under the Brainerd net.

Crosby solved the Brainerd defense by attracting the boys to a corner and then with a fast pass to Perpich under the cage scored invariably.

The Rangers went the stretch in the lead. They scored a safe enough lead to turn back a strong comeback in the second half. The scores at the quarters were: 7-2, 13-7, 22-17, 30-27.

Crosby held a lead of eight points, 28-20 with only three and a half minutes to go in the game.

Elmer Foster, veteran, demonstrated his ability as a fast finisher by scoring three field goals and two free throws in the second half. He was held to one free throw in the first half.

The Wygle brothers, Gerry and Bob, were off from the first half but found themselves in the second half.

Templeton Speeds Play

Gabiou started the game for Brainerd in a guard position but a taller player was necessary against the Rangers so Swanson was entered in the first quarter. Swanson went to a forward position, Wygle going back to guard. Templeton lived up to the play in the fourth quarter, relieving Foster, who went to the bench for coach's instructions. Foster was sent in to work with Templeton, Swanson going out. Templeton a short while later was substituted by a stockier player, White.

Brainerd resumes its schedule next week, playing three games: Little Falls, there, Tuesday; Staples, there, Friday; Fargo, N. D., here, Saturday.

Brainerd and Crosby-Ironton do not meet again until Feb. 26. That game will be played on the Crosby court.

Last night's box score follows:

Brainerd (27)	FG.	FT.	PF.
Foster, E.	3	3	1
Bob Wygle, F.	1	0	2
Gerry Wygle, C.	2	1	1
Larson, G.	5	0	1

Totals	14	2	9

INDIANS SEEK SHORTSTOP AND PORTSIDE HURLER TO STRENGTHEN CLUB FOR RACE

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(UP)—A first-class shortstop and a good left-handed pitcher seem to mean the difference between a fourth-place team and a pennant contender for the Cleveland Indians.

But for these two handicaps Cleveland might step out and battle for the American league pennant this season. For the past three years shortstop has been a sieve in the Cleveland infield, and the position may be as weak this season. The Indians also need a south-paw pitcher badly.

Of late years the Indians have had a habit of producing one outstanding young player each season. It was Joe Vosmik last season. Wesley Ferrell, one of the best right-handed pitchers in baseball, and Earl Averill, perhaps the best centerfielder in the game, were developed under Roger Peckinpaugh's regime during the past four years.

This season, Bruce Connatser, first baseman from the New Orleans Southern league club, may be Cleveland's "find." If Connatser, another former U. of Alabama star, makes good at first, Eddie Morgan probably will be shifted to right field, giving the Indians one of the best outfielders in the league of Vosmik, Averill and Morgan.

The Indians tried five players at shortstop last season without success, and they have four to try for that berth this year. Montague, who played 64 games at that position last season, seems better than the three rookies, Hale from New Orleans, White from San Francisco and Bellande from Decatur.

Cleveland's probable lineup follows:

Player	Batting Average 1931
1B—Connatser	.334
2B—Hodapp	.295
3B—Kamm	.290
SS—Montague	.285
LF—Vosmik	.320
CF—Averill	.333
RF—Morgan	.361
C—L. Sewell	.275

LEVINSKY WHIPS PAULINO UZCUDUN

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(UP)—King Levinsky, Chicago's battling buffoon, today boasted of victories over both Paulino Uzcudun and Tommy Loughran, something no other heavyweight has ever achieved.

Levinsky battered his way to a 10-round decision over Paulino before a crowd of about 13,500 who paid approximately $36,000 to see the match in the Chicago stadium last night. Levinsky defeated Loughran in New York last month.

Last night's decision was not unanimous, Referee Phil Collins and one judge casting their votes for Levinsky and the other judge calling the bout a draw. Paulino weighed 200. Levinsky 195½.

RED DEVILS TO OFFICIALLY OPEN RINK HERE SUNDAY IN GAME WITH C.-I. RANGERS

The official opening of the Brainerd skating rink at the East Maple street hollow will be observed Sunday by a hockey game with the Crosby-Ironton Rangers opposing the Brainerd Red Devils.

The opening of the rink prompts an explanation of its history and information on the Brainerd hockey sextet.

The rink has a skating surface of 190 feet by 90 feet. Water, lights and wire were furnished by the City Water and Light department.

The rink may be used by the public on all days and nights except Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m., when the hockey team practices and on Sundays from 4 p. m. on and except such time as the team plays a home game.

A small admission charge for skating and hockey games will be charged for the upkeep of the warming house and rink. The skating rink will be properly policed.

The Red Devils hockey team is self supporting. The players have contributed for the cost of suits and equipment and work on the rink is done by them.

The Brainerd team will be in complete uniform for the game tomorrow. The team has won three games and suffered no defeats this season.

There will be three 20 minute periods played with two ten minute rest periods during which there will be exhibitions of fancy skating by Earl and Clair Bedal, accompanied by younger artists of Brainerd.

GOPHERS TO SEEK SECOND WIN TONIGHT

Minneapolis, Jan. 16.—(UP)—The University of Minnesota basketball team will seek its second Big Ten conference victory tonight at the expense of the tall end Indiana five.

The game will mark the second encounter between a Gopher team and one coached by Everett Dean, former Carleton college coach. Minnesota is favored to defeat Indiana, which so far this season has lost to three of the best teams in the league.

In losing, however, the Hoosiers have averaged 25 points per game. The Gophers, against Chicago and Michigan, have scored an average of 23½ points.

Though Minnesota will have the edge on defense, Hodson, star Indiana forward and one of the leading Big Ten scorers so far this season, may cause MacMillan's men trouble. He has scored 25 points in his three games this season.

FALLS BOWLERS TO VISIT HERE SUNDAY

Little Falls bowling teams, composed of two men's and one ladies', will compete here Sunday with selected Brainerd teams who played and won at the Falls two weeks ago. The games will get underway at Van's alleys at 2:30 p. m.

The following officers and committees were elected for the ensuing year: President—Mrs. William Olson. Vice President—Mrs. Harry M. Anderson.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science churches on all parts of the world on Sunday, January 17, 1932, is "Life."

The Golden Text is: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son" (1 John 5:11).

The following verse from the Bible is among the selections comprising the Lesson-Sermon: "For who so findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the Lord" (Proverbs 8:35).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following quotation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter—certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God" (p. 324).
